Educational philosophy

Faculty pursues the educational philosophy of "Constructivism".

The philosophy of the program is Constructivism, based on two principles:

1) Learning starts when learners are passionate about the learning topics

2) Learners build new knowledge and experience on their own based on existing knowledge and experience.

Learners will participate in study and work at enterprises, government affairs, through which they will apply the knowledge learned to practice, discover new knowledge, and develop creative thinking and career competencies.
